The School of International Studies organizes a scientific conference for the celebration of the 60 Years of the Treaty of Rome that established the European Economic Community.

The Conference will cover a range of issues related to the evolution of the European integration process, starting from the original Community Treaties up to the Lisbon Treaty, through an interdisciplinary analysis.

Researchers from different disciplines will develop a broad-spectrum analysis of the complexities of European integration with a comparison from an economic, legal, sociological, political and historical point of view.

In each session a discussant will offer a critical analysis of the papers, fostering a debate with the audience.
