DELIVERING CLIMATE NEUTRALITY BY 2050:
THE MANAGEABLE CHALLENGES OF THE EUROPEAN GREEN DEAL

Irina Kustova, PhD, is a Researcher in the Energy and Climate House at CEPS (Centre for European Policy Studies), an independent think tank in Brussels specialising in European affairs. Her research focuses on the implementation of the EU Green Deal, the decarbonisation of energy industries, and the transition in coal regions. She also covers the external dimension of European energy and climate policies. In the past, Irina completed research and consulting assignments for the Energy Charter Secretariat on regional electricity markets, energy transit issues, and dispute settlement mechanisms under the Energy Charter Treaty. Prior to joining the Energy Charter Secretariat, she completed a traineeship at the Agency for the Cooperation of Energy Regulators, where she helped prepare the annual ACER Market Monitoring Report. Irina obtained her doctoral degree with cum laude at the School of International Studies, University of Trento, Italy (2015).
