Workshop 22-23 February 2019
Navigating forced displacement: the influence of everyday informal practices on forced migrants’ human security

Sala riunioni, II Floor - Department of Sociology and Social Research, via Verdi, 26

Day 1, 22 February

14:00-14:15  Sara de Simone (University of Trento)
Introduction to the workshop

14:15-14:45  Paolo Boccagni (University of Trento)
Opening speech: Refugees and the search for “home” as ontological security: a conceptual framework

14:45-15:45  Enes Ayasli (Migration Research Center at Koc University, Istanbul) and Duygu Ekin Simsek (Energy Policy Research Center at Bilkent University, Ankara)
A quest for human security: trajectories of Syrian refugees in Turkey

15:45-16:45 Coffee break

16:15-17:15  Irene Costantini (University of Naples L’Orientale)
Practices of Exclusion, Narratives of Inclusion: Violence, Population Movements and Identity Politics in post-Islamic State Northern Iraq

17:15-18:15  Aurora Massa (University of Trento)
A precarious security? Informal dwellings of Eritrean refugees in Rome

20:00 Social dinner

Day 2, 23 February

9:00-10:00  Eria Olowo Onyango (Makerere University, Kampala)
Livelihood Strategies of South Sudan Refugees in Northern Uganda: Understanding the dynamics of cross border smuggling

10:00-11:00  Sara de Simone (University of Trento)
Becoming “more Ugandan”: Local citizenship negotiation practices among refugees from South Sudan in Adjumani town

11:00-11:30 Coffee break

11:30-12:30  Stevens Aguto Odongoh (Makerere University, Kampala)
Making use of a borderland in violent social setting: South Sudanese Irregular Mobility along the Uganda-South Sudan Border

12:30-13:00  Conclusions of the workshop

Info:
Sara de Simone, Department of Sociology and Social Research
tel. +39 0461 281371, sara.desimone@unitn.it