EURASIA is perennially on the edge, geographically, politically and geo-strategically. It is seen as both the cross-roads and the flashpoint where different cultural, strategic, economic and political interests converge. The aim of this research project and conference is to explore the different ways in which Eurasia affects and is affected by changing global and regional dynamics. It brings together experts from a range of disciplines and parts of the world to examine whether being on the edge augurs stability or a more uncertain future.

PARTICIPANTS

ALEXANDER LUKIN - Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO-University)
ANDREI KAZANTSEV - Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO-University)
ANDREY SUSHENTSOV - Valdai Club and Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO-University)
CAROLE NAKHLE - University of Surrey
EVGENY VINOKUROV - Eurasian Development Bank
FYODOR LUKYANOV - Valdai Club
ZHAO HUASHENG - Fudan University
HANS-JOACHIM SPANNER - Peace Research Institute Frankfurt (PRIF)
IVAN SAFRANCHUK - Moscow State Institute of International Relations (MGIMO-University)
LEAH SHERWOOD - TRENDS, Abu Dhabi
MARTIN GEIGER - Carleton University
LEONID GRIGORYEV - Head of the Analytical Centre, Government of Russia
RICHARD BURCHILL - Director of Research and Engagement, TRENDS, Abu Dhabi
RICHARD SAKWA - University of Kent
RICHARD WEITZ - Hudson Institute
TIMOFEY BORDACHEV - Valdai Club and National Research University - Higher School of Economics
VIKTORIA AKCHURINA - University of Trento
VINCENT DELLA SALA - University of Trento
YONG WANG - Peking University
PIOTR DUTKIEWICZ - Carleton University

INFO
Jean Monnet European Centre of Excellence
via Prati, 2 - Trento
+39 0461 283473
centrojeanmonnet@unitn.it
www.unitn.it/en/cjm

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY AND SOCIAL RESEARCH
“SALA PROFESSORI” 2ND FLOOR
VIA VERDI, 26 - TRENTO

15 MAY 2017