

Writing the Long History of Social Rights: Problems and Perspectives

September 26, 2023 - 5 pm

Room 9, 1 floor

Charles Walton
(University of Warwick)

Respondent: Aurora Perego
(University of Trento)

Introduction: Rosa Salzberg
(University of Trento)

Charles Walton is a historian of France and Director of the Early Modern and Eighteenth Century Centre. Before joining the History Department at Warwick, he taught at Yale University, the University of Oklahoma (Norman) and Sciences Po (Paris). His research focuses on Ancien Régime, Enlightenment and Revolutionary France, with emphases on rights, political economy and socio-economic justice. Most recently he is the co-editor of the volume Social Rights and the Politics of Obligation in History (Cambridge University Press, 2022)